There's a nip in the air, and we know that we will soon need to have our annual leaf roundup. Those big oak trees provide a welcome canopy from the hot summer sun and when fall comes they provide us with many clean-up chores. Those who are able to attend our next two "visitation/work-days" (October 11, and November 8) are asked to bring a package of the paper leaf bags, as well as their leaf blowers. Home Depot has a package of 5 for under $2.00. Hopefully we will have our very welcome Boy Scout group to help us again in November with the leaf-blowing and clean-up. As usual, snacks will be provided by the volunteers attending.

We know that most of you who have family buried at East View Cemetery are unable to attend work-days because of distance or other obstacles. We encourage you to contribute to the upkeep with regular donations so that we may be able to pay for the items of upkeep such as lawn cutting, tree cutting and trimming, insurance, trash pickup, and improvements on the little house where our bathroom is located. We still do not have a workable commode in the bathroom, and must pour gallons of water into the bowl in order to flush. We had planned to have that work completed last fall, but discovered termite damage in the building and must take care of that problem first.

Through our affiliation with the East Lake Neighbors Community Association we are attempting to create a feeling of responsibility and involvement in the welfare of the Cemetery. Many of the neighbors walk with their children and their dogs through the cemetery and have expressed an interest in being involved with us in clean-up. We welcome and encourage all of them. In the same way some of the members of our East View Association attend their neighborhood meetings. It is up to us all to keep East Lake and Oakhurst the kind of communities that are now attracting young professionals and families.
